Beschreibung

Pacton TBZ 233 two-axle refrigerated city trailer, 2007. Built for urban cold-chain distribution. Veere, Netherlands. A city trailer is shorter and more manoeuvrable than a full-length semi, which is exactly what you need for supermarket deliveries, city-centre unloading bays and tight yards. This Pacton pairs that with a freezer body. Two axles keep the turning circle tight and the tolls low. Operators running urban cold-chain work buy these specifically because a standard 13.6-metre reefer simply will not fit where the customers are. Type — Two-axle refrigerated city trailer, freezer specification. Year — 2007.
